

Combining permaculture & hacker culture

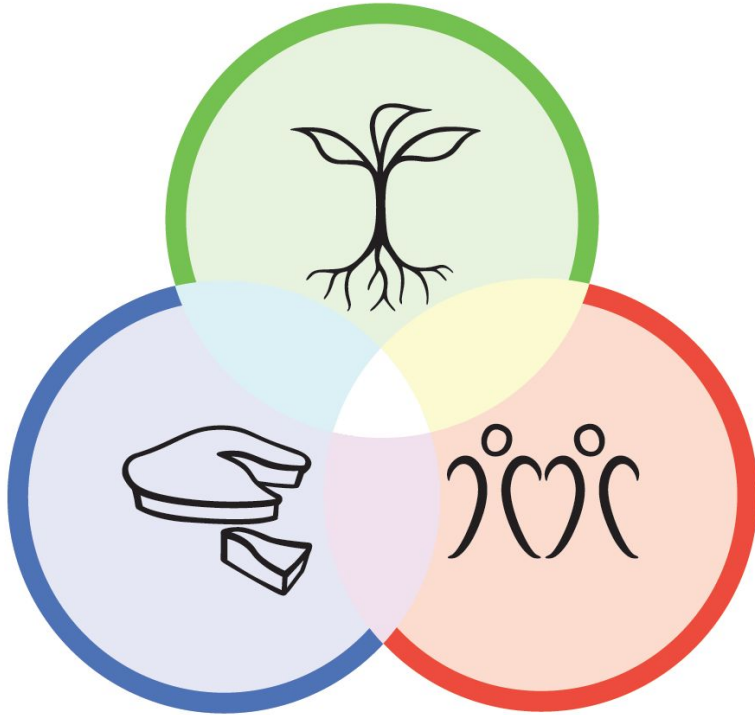

Eco Hacker Farm

The problem:

What's Permaculture?

Earth Care

People Care

Fair Share

Applications of Permaculture Ethics & Design

The background features a series of vertical bars in purple and teal, arranged in a pattern that frames the central text. The bars are of varying heights and are set against a light green background.

Living the permaculture way...

No-till gardening

No
chemicals

No
antibiotics

What's Hacker culture?

Hackers solve problems and build things, they believe in freedom and voluntary mutual help.

*Excerpt from "How to be a Hacker" by Eric Steven Raymond

The Hacker Attitude

*Excerpt from "How to be a Hacker" by Eric Steven Raymond

1. The world is full of fascinating problems waiting to be solved.

Harder choices / Fascinating problems

The Hacker Attitude

Excerpt from "How to be a Hacker" by Eric Steven Raymond

2. No problem should ever have to be solved twice.

Advocating and supporting open source
and
open knowledge

Projects worth promoting

Open source ecology

“We’re developing open source industrial machines that can be made for a fraction of commercial costs, and sharing our designs online for free”

Farmos

“farmOS is a web-based application for farm management, planning, and record keeping.”

Community
Online / Onsite

the online community

Create, add, update
and promote open
source and open knowledge

Connect with others
that do the same

Online project - powerplant

An open source - companion planting garden planner

It provides intelligent suggestions to help the gardener by advising the best planting schedules and combinations of crops to maximize the garden's yield.

<http://powerplant.ecohackerfarm.org/>

Provide solutions for offline implementation

Onsite location

Kuckucksmühle

A cohabitation project that combines permaculture living with a hackerspace.

- # established a food garden - 430 kg (2017 / 18)
- # functioning hackerspace and wood workshop
- # 5 chickens, 7 ducks, 3 dogs, 3 cats
- # 6 permies + 3 volunteers
- # a nice mix of online and onsite participation
- # regular events for the locals and visitors

an old water mill northwest of Berlin in Heiligengrabe, Brandenburg

Events that make a difference

- Young coders summer camp 2018
- freeCodeCamp weekly meetings
- Free Market Sundays
- Weekly English classes
- Gardening focused weekends
- Monthly IT Meetups
- Participation in events to connect with others (35c3, MetaNook, Emergent Berlin Festival, Bits & Baume...)

Our Ideals

Sustainable Living & Simple Sustainable Solutions

Sustainable Hackerspace

Reducing Poverty

Connecting People

Building an Inclusive Community

Education

Art & Culture

Democracy

Start your own Eco Hacker Farm Project!

Online - no physical location

Onsite - has physical location / meeting place and online presence

provide assistance and access to our project management system and other infrastructure tools

get a share of funding depending on the proposed projects

Contact info:

Aimee Fenech:

Franz Gatzke:

Website:

Questions?

life@ecohackerfarm.org

aimee@ecohackerfarm.org

franz@ecohackerfarm.org

<https://wiki.ecohackerfarm.org/>

